JANUARY'S LITTLE ELM GROVE COON

He Appears Through the Intelligencer to Celebrate the Magnificent Victory

SCORED BY THE REPUBLICANS

Elections in McMechen, Fulton and Pleasant Valley Without Political Significance.

"Mamma's little pumpkin colored coon" is a not unfamiliar refrain, especially just after a minstrel troupe has struck town.

This morning it is "January's little Elm Grove coon," which the Intelligencer is delighted to swing to the breeze at the request of the Republicans of Elm Grove. In recognition of their magnificent victory yesterday afternoon, the occasion being the annual municipal election. This was the only election of five which occurred in this neighborhood yesterday, in which politics was injected, and the fact that the Republicans of the east-of-town village increased a normal majority of fifteen or twenty in national elections to majorities ranging from twenty to forty-eight, and in a municipal contest, shows that the Republican organization and spirit in this neck of the woods is still enthusiastic and all-powerful. It is not a big affair, this Elm Grove election, but it is a straw that shows the direction of the political breeze, and certainly the Democracy of this county can see nothing in the result to give them any pleasing expectations. The party workers were all out in force and harmony reigned supreme. The Intelligencer tenders its congratulations to the Republicans of Elm Grove.

The defeat of Mayor Michael A. Madden, the Democratic incumbent, by his Republican opponent, Mr. J. W. Baird, by twenty-nine majority, was unexpectedly decisive. For recorder, W. L. Duncan, Republican, defeated W. C. Weidman, Democrat, by twenty majority, and the entire Republican councilman ticket went through by majorities ranging from twenty to forty-eight. From stem to stern, the good ship Elm Grove is now in the hands of capable legislators. The vote in detail was as follows:

Mayor—J. W. Baird, R., 90; M. A. Madden, D., 61; Baird's majority, 29.
Recorder—W. L. Duncan, R., 85; W. C. Weidman, D., 65; Duncan's majority, 20.
Council—Andrew Steel, R., 93; J. M. Butler, R., 90; Lewis Wharton, R., 77; William Spindler, R., 97; D. W. Smith, R., 103; I. F. Jones, D., 54; F. M. Henderson, D., 54; J. S. Beddilion, D., 54; R. H. Walters, D., 64; Frank Higgs, D., 55.

A factor in the contest was the record of the present Democratic administration on improvements, the Republicans not endorsing in the manner in which the Democrats were spending the money raised by bonds recently. Much of this money remains to be spent, and the new Republican administration will see that it is properly placed.

Mayor Baird is the proprietor of the Elm Grove livery stable, and is a citizen who enjoys the respect and esteem of all his fellow townsmen. It is assumed that he will make an excellent mayor.

Last night the Republicans of the Grove were out in force with tin horns and other noise producers, jollifying over the clean sweep they had made. The several defeated candidates, including Mayor Madden, were serenaded. It was entirely good natured and was so taken by the Democrats.

Triadelphia.

The election in Triadelphia was for councilmen only. The present council was re-elected with one exception, Captain John Wise, who was defeated by Fred Kline.

The votes of the successful candidates were as follows: Fred Kline, 39; U. M. Hervey, 42; Robert Armstrong, 38; T. K. Scheida, 42; H. A. Wise, 25.
Politics was not a factor. Politically, the council is equally divided, three Republicans and three Democrats.

Pleasant Valley.

There was not even the semblance of a contest in the Pleasant Valley election. The voting was done at the usual place on Sycamore street, between the hours of 2 and 6 p. m. The following town officers were elected:

Mayor—J. R. Acker.
Recorder—W. W. Gilchrist.

McMechen.

In the McMechen election there were two tickets in the field, the Citizens' Improvement and the Citizens, and the former won. There was no politics, but the two candidates for mayor, as well as the two for recorder, are all Republicans. Most of the candidates for council, too, are Republicans. The license question was also up, and license polled 110 votes, while no license got but 42. The entire Citizens' Improvement ticket went through. The vote was as follows:

Mayor—George Artz, C. I., 126; Booth Goodwin, C. I., 83; Artz's majority, 73.
Recorder—R. J. Stover, C. I., 111; F. E. Jeffers, C. I., 70; Stover's majority, 41.
Council—Jesse Clayton, C. I., 112; J. L. Pracht, C. I., 105; W. E. Porterfield, C. I., 106; W. K. Shaw, C. I., 98; C. C. McMechen, C. I., 114; Fred Baltz, C.

Fulton.

There was only one ticket for the consideration of the Fulton voters, and the election was very quiet. It was interesting principally in that Col. Mike Stein re-entered the political arena after a few years' retirement. He captured the mayoralty with hands down over George Marshall, and for recorder John Hamm was a good first likewise over A. C. Wagner. Usually, the Fulton election is a battle to a finish, but yesterday's was an exception.

The result was as follows:
Mayor—Michael Stein, 65; George Marshall, 33; Stein's majority, 32.
Recorder—John Hamm, 60; A. C. Wagner, 35; Hamm's majority, 25.
Council (five to be elected)—Henry Roth, 60; John Yocke, 61; Joseph Locke, sr., 51; Otto Schenk, 54; Albert Stahnke, 54. The "also rans" were George Bush, 41; Peter Felsheim, 41; George Zoekler, 39; M. Freimuth, 24; John Steen, 8; Charles Steen, 5.

In the Courts.

Yesterday in the criminal court, Judge Hugu, the docket was called, and cases disposed of as follows:

- State vs. John Crawford; argument on motion for a new trial set for January 8.
- State vs. Bert McConaughy; plea of not guilty on both indictments; demurrer set for argument to-morrow.
- State vs. Joe Driller; leave given defendant to file special pleas before January 8.
- State vs. Robert Richardson; plea of not guilty; demurrer set for argument to-morrow.
- State vs. H. Zercher; set for trial January 16.
- State vs. Ben Frasier; plea of not guilty; demurrer set for argument to-day.
- State vs. Alfred McGee and Ed. Booker; plea of not guilty; demurrer set for argument to-morrow.
- State vs. W. Echols, an appeal, set for trial January 8.

The Circuit Court.

In the circuit court, Judge Melvin, in the case of James Underwood vs. the P. C. & St. L. Railway Company, there was a verdict for the plaintiff for $200. Defendant entered a motion for a new trial.

Joseph Rebrecht vs. John and Rosa Fleahmann; verdict for plaintiff for $15, and judgment entered.

Another Riverside Transfer.

The deed made by the Riverside Iron Company to the National Tube Company, (the Tube Trust) for the furnace property in the Fifth ward, at Steubenville, was left for record with Recorder Petrow last evening. The deed is a long one and although the consideration named in the instrument is only $5, there are four $10 revenue stamps and one $5 newspaper and periodical stamp affixed to the instrument which would indicate that the property was valued at $45,000. The $5 periodical stamp is rather a puzzle and the deed will not be recorded until it is ascertained whether it is a correct one or not.—Steubenville Herald-Star.

Eastern Ohio Miners.

The convention of the miners of the fifth Ohio sub-district, at Bridgeport, ended yesterday afternoon, after a three days' session. Committee reports were received yesterday and resolutions adopted, the more important being those which endorsed T. L. Lewis, a Bridgeport, for national vice president, should he be a candidate for the office, and for an advance in the coal mining scale of twenty cents per ton. Other recommendations called for payment by the "run of mine" system, a Saturday half-holiday, an eight-hour work day, and abolition of all Sunday labor in the mines. These proceedings will be presented before the state convention, which meets in Columbus next week.

MAY BUY THE PEABODY.

Mutual Bank Directors Inspect the Big Office Building.

The directors of the Mutual savings bank yesterday afternoon inspected the Peabody building, with a view of buying it from the owners, the Messrs. Schenck, who acquired it last year. They were accompanied by Architect Leiner. Several of the directors had been on a similar mission a few days previously, as all were unable to go on the same day. A meeting of the bank directors was held last night to consider the proposition submitted by the Schencks, which is said to be no more than the price they paid, which was about $65,000. The lease on the present site of the bank will expire in January, 1901. It was for a ten-years' tenure, the bank having erected the building.
